DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakamura et al.

Regarding claim 1, Nakamura et al discloses on figure 1 a flip chip type of light emitting semiconductor device comprising a substrate 11; group III nitride semiconductor layers formed on said substrate, said layers comprising a p type semiconductor layer 13; and a positive electrode 15 including at least one layer of a first positive electrode layer which is formed on or above said a p type semiconductor layer and reflects light toward said substrate, said first positive electrode layer being made of at least one of Ag, Rh, Ru, Pt, Pd and an alloy including at least one of these metals wherein said substrate 11 transmits said light reflected from said positive electrode and light is emitted from a substrate side of said light emitting device.

Regarding claim 2, Nakamura et al discloses on figure 1 said positive electrode 15 having a multi layer structure made of a plural kinds of metals.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 2815

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-6, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakamura et al as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Okazaki.

Regarding claim 3, Nakamura et al discloses on figure 1 substantially all the structures set forth in the claimed invention except a first thin film metal layer made of at least one of Co, Ni or an alloy of these metals, formed between said p type semiconductor layer and said first positive electrode layer. However, Okazaki discloses on figure 5A a first thin film metal layer 9 made of at least one of Co, Ni or an alloy of these metals, formed between said p type semiconductor layer and said first positive electrode layer 10. In view of such teaching, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Nakamura et al by having a first thin film metal layer made of at least one of Co, Ni or an alloy of these metals, formed between said p type semiconductor layer and said first positive electrode layer for the purpose of improving the external quantum efficiency as taught by Okazaki (Abstract).

Regarding claims 4-6 and 12, Nakamura et al and Okazaki together discloses all the structures set forth in the claimed invention.

Art Unit: 2815

Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakaruma et al and Okazaki, and further in view of Neumann et al.

Regarding claims 7 and 8, Nakaruma et al and Okazaki disclose substantially all the structure set forth in the claimed invention except the second thin film metal layer made of at least one of gold and an alloy including gold. However, Neumann et al discloses on figure 1 the second thin film metal layer 5 made of at least one of gold and an alloy including gold (col. 3, line 27). In view of such teaching, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Nakaruma et al and Okazaki by having the second thin film metal layer made of at least one of gold and an alloy including gold for the purpose of providing a highly desirable, good ohmic contact as taught by Neumann et al (col. 3m lines 26-29).

Regarding claims 9-10, Nakaruma et al and Okazaki and Yanagihar et al together disclose all the structures set forth in the claimed invention.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 and 12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
